

This is the Machi drunkards song.
In the dry season, which is the idle season of the year, young ~~men~~ well to do gentlemen spend their time roaming the villages around looking for drinks.

There are so many types of those: Nguli, wiri, duma etc.

In the late hours of the day
they return home and sing:

Ama uua nguli to 'borodu
Ama rea wiri to 'borodu
Ama cia duma to borodu
'Borodu, 'borodu boro tuwa

Nhiatic ye Melegda lusk,
co ye Melegda co piir;
Nhiatic ye Melek lusk:
co ye co piir ku riel,
co ye co piir ku riel;
Yin e Melegda lusk ne yic,
Nhiatic ye Melek lusk.

=
God Save the King
in Diuka.

In return for the fish.
